Projects undertaken

1. Yaya Kenya: (Android Development)

Overview

The term "Yaya" originates from Swahili and denotes a "nanny or babysitter." Kenyan households encounter challenges in sourcing capable caregivers and housekeepers who can responsibly tend to their homes and children and demonstrate accountability for their actions.

While this Android application is not yet fully operational, its objective is to facilitate the connection between skilled, cost-effective babysitters and house managers with potential clients. This endeavor aims to foster employment opportunities within this sector.

2. Web Portfolio

As a developer, it is essential to present one's work through a portfolio website. Although the website has not been deployed yet, I have undertaken the task of creating it using HTML, CSS, and a small amount of JavaScript.
